To the Undergraduate Admission Officer:

I am pleased to write a letter of recommendation letter for Hamid Alakbarli, an ambitious individual who always amazed me professionally and personally. I came to know him very well when he worked as an intern at Muganbank OJSC and I was his supervisor throughout his internship.

Muganbank OJSC was established as a commercial bank in 1992. Since its inception, the Bank's goal has been to participate in the development of the country's economy, to provide all types of banking services, and thus to become one of the leading financial institutions in the banking system. Its strategic aim is to empower its market position by continuing its activities as a universal bank with a branch network located in the regional centers of the Republic, focusing mainly on small and medium enterprises.

In order to accomplish the aforementioned strategic goal, the Bank has always put an enormous effort into hiring the best talents. Therefore, Hamid Alakbarli was recruited and started his position at Muganbank OJSC. As part of the Bank's corporate values, we whole-heartedly believe that success and quality are generated under the pressure, hence the team was allocated heavy assignments pushing the limits of their technical knowledge. In this regard, Hamid Alakbarli was assigned the task of redesigning of the website of the bank alongside adding new marketing products and services to the web-site content using technologies: JavaScript, HTML, CSS. Despite his young age, he exceeded my expectations and even went further by recoding over the old script to boost user-friendliness of the website functionality.

His performance exceeded that of the peers in the bank, in terms of the domain knowledge and programming skills. He always amazed his seniors by his creativity, unconventional thinking and charisma. Additionally, he was a leader by character and it let him ground very difficult tasks and extend his help whenever needed which helped alleviate the nervousness of other interns. Moreover, having carefully reviewed his work, I can affirm that he was one of the top talents in the bank who can operate at an advanced theoretical level for his age while staying rooted in the empirical realm as well.

Finally, I know from the discussions with colleagues and his peers in my department that in our opinion, Hamid Alakbarli is a very special individual. He will be a dedicated student and a competent professional in the future. I recommend him very highly and without hesitation to the undergraduate degree at your university.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you need further information.

Sincerely,

Polad Gulamov
